Part B. CV SUMMARY

My PhD was on global textile markets before World War I, an analysis on the intraindustrial trade within European countries. Since then my research has focused on international trade issues applied to Latin America, particularly on: the accuracy of official trade sources and regional trade integration.

I have published in Revista de Historia Económica/ Journal of Iberian and Latin American Economic History, Revista de Historia Industrial, Secuencia, Revista de Historia y Ciencias Sociales, Economic History of Developing Regions, Jahrbuch für Geschichte Lateinamerikas, Scripta Nova, Revista Electrónica de Geografía y Ciencias Sociales, National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER) and América Latina en la Historia Económica (ALHE).

I have been awarded the Earl J. Hamilton Distinction for the best article published in international journals by the Spanish Association of Economic History, 2014 6th edition, co-authored with M. Badia-Miró and J. Peres Cajías.

I have a experience in organizing sessions at international congresses such as: “V Iberometrics: Fifth Iberian Economic History Conference” 2011, Barcelona (Spain); “LASA-Latin American Studies Association”, 2012, San Francisco (USA); “XVI World Economic History Congress” 2012, Stellenbosch (South Africa); “Latin American Economic History Congress-CLADHE III”, 2012 Bariloche (Argentina); “IV Latin American Congress of Economic History CLADHE IV”, 2014, Bogota (Colombia); “XVII World Economic History Congress”, 2015 Kyoto (Japan) and “V Latin American Congress of Economic History CLADHE V, Sao Paulo, (Brazil) forthcoming.

I have been a member of the editorial board of Investigaciones de Historia Económica, the Journal of the Spanish Economic History Association, since 2012 until 2015. I have done referees for the following journals: Explorations in Economic History, América Latina en la Historia Económica (ALHE- México), Investigaciones de Historia Económica (Spain), Tiempo y Economía (Colombia), Scripta Nova, Revista Electrónica de Geografía y Ciencias Sociales (Spain) and Economic History of Developing Regions (South Africa).

Regarding teaching, I have taught under-graduate subjects in the Bachelor in “Economics” and “Management and Business Administration”, and post-graduate subjects in the “Master in Economic History” and the “Master in Latin American Studies” at the University of Barcelona. I have also taught graduate subjects at Universidad Mayor de San Andrés, La Paz, Bolivia. I coordinate the project “Teaching Innovation in Economic History” of the University of Barcelona since 2012. I have developed a project on Teaching Innovation financed by the University of Barcelona in 2012-2014 whose results have been presented at international conferences with its corresponding publications.
